Profile

Dedicated and motivated medical student with a strong academic foundation in Green Tara College of Health Science. Passionate about patient care, clinical research, and medical advancements. Strong problem-solving skills, teamwork, and commitment to lifelong learning. Seeking opportunities to gain hands on experience and contribute to health care improvement and other faculties too. Despite all these I love to gain a lot of experiences on various field as I am also an educator and also a self-starter who thrives under the pressure looking for the opportunities.
